CIRCLING THE CIRCLE

—The name of C. C. Chapplear, former publisher of The Union-Herald here, is included in the list of 16 newspapermen who are running for state offices in Ohio.

—BOOST CIRCLEVILLE—

—If you have something to sell, something you want to buy, need a maid, chauffeur or help of any kind—in short, if you want to do anything in the world, use The Herald's classified columns. Just a cent a word.

—BOOST CIRCLEVILLE—

—S. G. Rader, accompanied by Harry E. Weaver and Frank Martin spent two days at his camp in Pike-co., and returned home Tuesday evening. Mr. Rader frequently goes on these picnics, and always manages to take along enough to help insure him having a good time. Mr. Martin donned a pair of rubber boots and assisted Mr. Rader in running a trot line, while Mr. Weaver acted as chef, and prepared the fish after they were caught by the other help. All report having plenty of blackberry pie, peaches, catfish and corn bread.

—BUY IN CIRCLEVILLE—

—Up in the sun kissed circular garden on the Courthouse esplanade, is a beautiful bunch of cerise colored cannas. Here and there is an orange colored species with a dash of red. The ears of the cannas are striped like tiger lilies. Back of these beautiful colored flowers is a mass of dark red cannas and the combination is as perfect as nature can make them. It is a riot of color and the old Courthouse looks homey. Several ladies cruised to the Courthouse camp meeting, got out of their flivver to admire the flowers. "You certainly have a beautiful city," said one of the strangers. And we agreed with her, and think she is certainly one woman who displayed good judgment of the beautiful.

E. church are serving a chicken dinner at the parish house at 7:30 o'clock and at 8 o'clock the work will start in the pavilion. At the conclusion of these ceremonies, refreshments will be served to the members of Woodmen who are in and will attend the meeting.

DRY CANDIDATE DEFEATS REED'S PROTEGE

COLLET LOSES FOR SENATOR IN MISSOURI

Wet Sweeps Cities But Rural Centers Put Over Anti-Saloon Candidate.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—Defeat of James A. Collet, of Salisbury, political protege of Senator James A. Reed, in the contest for the Missouri Democratic senatorial nomination, seemed virtually certain today.

Collet, a wet, was running considerably behind Charles M. Hay, St. Louis attorney, who was supported by the Missouri state Anti-Saloon league, according to incomplete returns from yesterday's state primary.

Although Collet's support was gained mainly from the city vote, later returns were expected to swell the lead which Hay already had established. Hay's supporters freely predicted his victory by a margin of 50,000.

In the contest for the Republican senatorial nomination, Nathan Frank, St. Louis, a wet, held a lead over David M. Procter, and Roscoe Patterson, Kansas City, his dry opponents.

The Democratic senatorial vote was: 2433 out of 4134 precincts. Hay 107,206; Collet 83,391.

Collet and Frank swept the cities, while their opponents were far in the lead out-state. Late reported returns from rural centers were expected to cut into both of their votes. Frank especially, whose strength was drawn mostly from St. Louis.

Two wets appeared certain of the Democratic and Republican gubernatorial nominations, Francis M. Wilson, of Platte City, who had the support of the state Democratic machine, and Henry S. Cauffman, St. Louis, backed by the Republican organization.

Hoover Elated
PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 8.—The Herbert Hoover camp was elated today at returns from the Democratic primary in Missouri, where the dry candidate for the senatorial nomination, Charles M. Hay, appeared to have a determined lead over James A. Collet.

Hoover recently was informed by Secretary of War Dwight Davis that the nomination of Hay would split the Democratic party in Missouri.

THUGS USE TEAR GAS BOMBS, GET $10,000 IN CASH

ST. PAUL, MINN., Aug. 8.—Blinded by tear gas bombs thrown by bandits the driver and five guards of the Sweeney detective bureau armored money car were robbed of $10,000 in currency here today.

While on the way from the American National bank to the Drovers State bank at South St. Paul, the driver of the armored car was forced to the curb by a large truck. A second automobile then drew alongside the money car and occupants hurried tear gas bombs at the driver and the guards.

The bandits clambered from the cars took the money from the guards and escaped.

GIRL TEACHER FOUND SLAIN IN ILLINOIS TOWN

Attacked and Killed With Gas Pipe On Way Home From Library.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 8.—The body of a young woman, believed by police to be Miss Jennie Constance, a Bradley college, Peoria, Ill., teacher, was found brutally beaten to death here today.

The body, lying in an arca-way three doors from Miss Constance's home, was found by a milkman. The young woman had been attacked and killed with a gas pipe, police reported.

Partial identification of the body by Acting Chief of Police Charles Pasch was based on the fact that the body resembled that of Miss Constance, and was clothed in a peach-colored dress resembling that worn by the teacher when she left home.

She had failed to return to her home after leaving to visit a library. Books were found near the body, but failed to aid in an identification, police said.

The features, because of the beating, were unrecognizable.

"PUG" FOWLER AGAIN IN JAIL

William "Pug" Fowler was the guest of Sheriff Frank Davis again Wednesday.

He was arrested Tuesday evening on a charge of cutting Bernard Kinney in the left shoulder. A gash three inches long was inflicted.

Mayor Hedges bound him over to the grand jury after Fowler waived examination. He was unable to raise $500 bond.

Fowler has been out under $500 bond for cutting a man named Stonerack and also was indicted recently for contributing to the delinquency of a young girl.

WOMAN FOUND ILL BY HER NEIGHBORS

Mrs. William Betz of N. Scioto-st. was recovering Wednesday from a sudden illness which she suffered early Tuesday morning at her home. Neighbors who heard her groaning rushed to her aid and found her in a serious condition which was thought to be an attack of acute indigestion and nervousness superinduced by the heat.

REPORT VALUE OF LOGAN LEASEHOLDS WILL BE REDUCED

State Utilities Commission Also Deny Company Going Concern Value.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 8.—The State Utilities commission will reduce the value of the Logan Gas Co. leaseholds, in addition to denying the company a going-concern value, it was reported in commission circles today.

While members of the commission last week said they would deny the going-concern item—which in itself will save consumers in excess of $3,000,000—it was learned today that the commission feels consumers should not be made to pay rates on a valuation in which is included the price of acreage of lands which are not producing gas wells.

Witnesses for the gas company in testifying before the commission when the case of the company's proposed increased rates was being aired, placed the value of the company's leaseholds at amounts ranging from $14,160,000 to $18,418,112. Included in such valuations were lands from which the company only "hoped" to get gas and oil. The value of such acreage is expected to be deducted from the valuation of the company's properties.

The state commission is said to feel that the Logan Gas Co. is justified in turning over to the Preston Oil Co. all gasoline extracted from oil produced by that company. Commission members said that the gas produced and furnished by the Logan Gas Co. is of excellent variety, and that gas free from all gasoline is the most pure and safe. The Logan company is said to turn the gasoline over to the Preston company pays for the drilling of wells from which both gas and gasoline are produced.

NO RELIEF FROM HEAT IN SIGHT

We're in for still more hot, if not hotter—weather.

The forecast for Thursday says "no change in temperature."

The maximum temperature in Circleville Tuesday was 92, and the minimum 68. At 12 o'clock Wednesday the thermometer registered 90, and it was still going up.

The rainfall here Tuesday was .82 inch, in 20 minutes. New Holland experienced the heaviest rainfall of the summer.

COUNTY'S CORN CROP TO SHOW A BIG INCREASE

Estimates Indicate Growth Will Be 35 Percent Higher Than In 1927.

Pickaway-co's 1928 corn crop should be 35 per cent greater than last year's, according to the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Wednesday. This estimate is based on reports brought into the bureau by corn growers.

The report given by Guy W. Miller of the Rural Economics Department of the Ohio State University says that the crop generally will be of average size and almost a fourth larger than last year. Pickaway-co is the best corn-producing county in the state and if it fails here it is generally a failure throughout the state.

The corn crop for the United States as a whole, based on conditions in July, probably will be about two per cent under the average for the past five years.

Corn in this section on both the lowlands and highlands has made a great growth, and is unusually tall.

The Central States, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, have prospects for an increase of 18 per cent in this year's corn crop. Kansas and Nebraska will be much below their record crop of last year.

In the United States this year there was an increase of four per cent in the acreage devoted to corn, as compared to last year's acreage. Most of this increase took place in the group of states extending from Ohio and Kentucky west to Kansas. Abandonment of winter wheat in some of these states left larger acreages to be planted to corn and other small grains.

It is pointed out that weather conditions from now on will have much to do with production, and that estimates based on July conditions may be changed materially before the corn is in the bin. July conditions indicated that Ohio and other central states east of the Mississippi River will be short on winter wheat, rye and hay this year these states will have a larger supply of corn, oats and barley.

GOV. SMITH TO DEBATE STRATON

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Alfred E. Smith, democratic candidate for president, has challenged Dr. John Rosch Stratton, Baptist minister, to public debate on Smith's record, and Stratton has accepted.

There is a possibility the debate may be in Madison Square Garden, rebroadcast to millions through America and then resumed on a speaking tour of the southern states.

If the meeting materializes, observers here regarded it as likely to become the most noted political debate since the Lincoln-Douglas affair.

COLUMBUS POSTMASTER DIES AT SUMMER HOME

DEATH TAKES GEO. E. BRENNAN, NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEADER

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—George E. Brennan, one of the National leaders of the Democratic party, died at John S. Murphy hospital here at 8:10 a. m. today.

Brennan's death, due to a complication of septic poisoning and diabetes, had been expected for 24 hours. The veteran political leader had been in a comatose condition for more than 12 hours. As early as yesterday afternoon his personal physician, Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, announced all hope of recovery had been given up.

At regular intervals, bulletins reported the 63-year-old Illinois political leader sinking rapidly. The last report, timed at 8 a. m., said he was dying.

Mrs. Brennan, a daughter, Mary, and the Rev. Father Scanlon of Mount Carmel church, were at the bedside when death came. The Rev. Father Scanlon went to the bedside of the veteran political leader shortly after midnight today. The rite of extreme unction was administered when Brennan's condition became critical 10 days ago.

THIEVES ROB TWO PLACES IN ASHVILLE

Robbers Take Tires from New Automobile and Raid Restaurant Icebox.

Thieves entered Weber's restaurant and Homer Spangler's garage at Ashville Tuesday night. They entered the restaurant through a side window and stole a good amount of cigars, cigarettes, and canned goods. Before leaving they raided the refrigerator and apparently helped themselves to a midnight lunch, for scraps of sandwiches and vegetables were found on the floor Wednesday morning.

At Spangler's garage the robbers stripped a new Essex automobile of four tires and headlamps.

Authorities have no clue although they are inclined to believe local men committed the crime.

DOG LEAPS FROM WINDOW TO STREET

"Ted," pet dog owned by Edward Green, Water-st., put on a circus act all of his own Wednesday morning when he leaped to the sidewalk from the second story window of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. offices in the Seitz building on W. Main-st.

"Ted" had accompanied his young master to the insurance office and then crawled out on the window ledge for a bit of air. Edward completed his business in the office and returned to the street, unaware that his prize possession was doing a human fly act above him. So he whistled for the pup, and looked up and down the street, and in the alley.

Others were watching the dog who started three times to jump and each time held back. Then finally with a brave determination and a faint bark, he leaped to the cement pavement below. He seemed surprised for a moment but unhurt, and then ran madly to his young master who was still searching for him.

Edward is the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Stanley Peters.

DRY CANDIDATE DEFEATS REED'S PROTEGE

COLLET LOSES FOR SENATOR IN MISSOURI

Wet Sweeps Cities But Rural Centers Put Over Anti-Saloon Candidate.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—Defeat of James A. Collet, of Salisbury, political protegee of Senator James A. Reed, in the contest for the Missouri Democratic senatorial nomination, seemed virtually certain today.

Collet, a wet, was running considerably behind Charles M. Hay, St. Louis attorney, who was supported by the Missouri state Anti-Saloon league, according to incomplete returns from yesterday's state primary.

Although Collet's support was gained mainly from the city vote, later returns were expected to swell the lead which Hay already had established. Hay's supporters freely predicted his victory by a margin of 50,000.

In the contest for the Republican senatorial nomination, Nathan Frank, St. Louis, a wet, held a lead over David M. Procter, and Roscoe Patterson, Kansas City, his dry opponents.

The Democratic senatorial vote was: 2433 out of 4134 precincts, Hay 197,206; Collet 88,391.

Collet and Frank swept the cities, while their opponents were far in the lead out-state. Late reported returns from rural centers were expected to cut into both of their votes, Frank especially, whose strength was drawn mostly from St. Louis.

Two wets appeared certain of the Democratic and Republican gubernatorial nominations, Francis M. Wilson, of Platte City, who had the support of the state Democratic machine, and Henry S. Cauffman, St. Louis, backed by the Republican organization.

Hoover Elated

PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 8.—The Herbert Hoover camp was elated today at returns from the Democratic primary in Missouri, where the dry candidate for the senatorial nomination, Charles M. Hay, appeared to have a determined lead over James A. Collet.

COUNTY'S CORN CROP TO SHOW A BIG INCREASE

Estimates Indicate Growth Will Be 35 Percent Higher Than In 1927.

Pickaway-co's 1928 corn crop should be 35 per cent greater than last year's, according to the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Wednesday. This estimate is based on reports brought into the bureau by corn growers.

DEATH TAKES GEO. E. BRENNAN, NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEADER

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—George E. Brennan, one of the National leaders of the Democratic party, died at John S. Murphy hospital here at 8:10 a. m. today.

Brennan's death, due to a complication of septic poisoning and diabetes, had been expected for 24 hours. The veteran political leader had been in a comatose condition for more than 12 hours.

As early as yesterday afternoon his personal physician, Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, announced all hope of recovery had been given up.

At regular intervals, bulletins reported the 63-year-old Illinois political leader sinking rapidly. The last report, timed at 8 a. m. said he was dying.

Mrs. Brennan, a daughter, Mary, and the Rev. Father Scanlon of Mount Carmel church, were at the bedside when death came.

The Rev. Father Scanlon went to the bedside of the veteran political leader shortly after midnight today. The rite of extreme unction was administered when Brennan's condition became critical 10 days ago.

THIEVES ROB TWO PLACES IN ASHVILLE

Robbers Take Tires from New Automobile and Raid Restaurant Icebox.

Thieves entered Weber's restaurant and Homer Spangler's garage at Ashville Tuesday night.

They entered the restaurant through a side window and stole a good amount of cigars, cigarettes, and canned goods. Before leaving they raided the refrigerator and apparently helped themselves to a midnight lunch, for scraps of sandwiches and vegetables were found on the floor Wednesday morning.

At Spangler's garage the robbers stripped a new Essex automobile of four tires and headlamps.

Authorities have no clue although they are inclined to believe local men committed the crime.

DOG LEAPS FROM WINDOW TO STREET

"Ted," pet dog owned by Edward Green, Water-st., put on a circus act all of his own Wednesday morning when he leaped to the sidewalk from the second story window of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. offices in the Seitz building on W. Main-st.

"Ted" had accompanied his young master to the insurance office and then crawled out on the window ledge for a bit of air.

Edward completed his business in the office and returned to the street, unaware that his prize possession was doing a human fly act above him. So he whistled for the pup, and looked up and down the street, and in the alley.

Others were watching the dog who started three times to jump and each time he failed. Then finally with a brave determination and a faint bark, he leaped to the cement pavement below. He seemed surprised for a moment but unhurt, and then ran madly to his young master who was still searching for him.

Edward is the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Stanley Peters.

LOCAL EAGLES TO TAKE PART IN BIG PARADE THURSDAY

Hundreds of Circleville Persons Expected To Enjoy Columbus Spectacle.

At the regular meeting Tuesday night of Circleville Aerie of Eagles final arrangements were completed for the local order's participation in the parade Thursday at the Grand Aerie convention in Columbus.

Special traction cars will leave Circleville at 9 a. m., Thursday and the return car will leave Columbus Thursday night at 11:30.

The Lancaster Band has been engaged to head the local delegation and will meet the Circleville crowd at the Columbus traction station. Members of the Aerie making the trip in autos are also to meet the delegation at the station at 10:30 a. m.

This parade will prove to be one of the most spectacular ever seen in central Ohio, and any person in Circleville who can possibly be there to see it will feel fully repaid for the time and expense in making the trip.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 visitors will be in Columbus on this day and many thousands will participate in the parade. There will be between 50 and 100 bands and musical organizations in the line, a large number of beautiful floats and other vehicles and a large number of uniformed delegations and marching clubs.

WIRES DOWN, TOLL OF LIFE IS NOT KNOWN

Scores of Towns In Path of Storm Sweeping Up From Bahamas.

BULLETIN

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

Aug. 8.—Full fury of a hurricane centered on a score of Florida coast towns today, isolating them from the outside world as its vicious winds swept inland. Damage to property was unknown. Possible toll of life cannot be learned until the tropical disturbance has moved on.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 8.—Destructive winds of a hurricane lashed the Florida coast along a 100 mile stretch today.

Toll of life and property loss was unknown. All wire communications was disrupted south of Daytona.

A score of towns, the largest of which is Fort Pierce, dot the coast between Jupiter lighthouse and Daytona, a distance of 150 miles. All of these were completely cut off from the outside world today.

Orlando, 30 miles inland, reported strong winds blowing there during the night.

The Tropical radio station at Miami first reported last night requests for aid from the steamer Algonquin. It kept up communication with the liner in an effort to prevent it running ashore.

RADIO STATION CRIPPLED

Reports at Miami were that the government radio station at Jupiter was crippled by the gale and could not communicate with the vessel.

The Lampira lost its lifeboats in battling heavy seas. The Castilla, of the United Fruit line, reported by radio it was standing by the crippled freighter.

When communication ceased with Palm Beach before midnight reports showed extensive property damage there and north to Jupiter light, a distance of 17 miles.

The hurricane was believed centering today north of Jupiter. Towns inland were cut off and it appeared the disturbance had veered across the state.

TELEPHONES OUT

At 7 a. m. all telephone lines south of Sarasota on the west coast leading to Miami went out and the southeastern Florida resort city was cut off. The storm had passed east of there yesterday and there was no danger.

The wind velocity was estimated at from 65 to 90 miles an hour in the storm area. Great seas tossed against the shore.

Word early today from the United Press correspondent at Daytona indicated the barometer was dropping there but little anxiety existed.

An unconfirmed report said houses were unroofed at Fort Pierce.

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach spent the night in total darkness.

The hurricane which appeared off the Bahamas Sunday, moving in a northwest direction is of great intensity but of smaller area according to the weather bureau than the 1926 disturbance which swept Miami and vicinity.

CRAFT TOSSED ASHORE

The rim of it only was believed to have hit the Palm Beaches yesterday. The wind reached an unofficial velocity of between 65 and up miles an hour there, but the barometer at 9 p. m., when the last report was received, had steadied at 29.35.

Trees were blown down, power was lost and ocean boulevard undermined by the storm. Small craft were tossed ashore in the (Turn to page three, please)

Lindstrom Looms As Best National Player

GIANTS' YOUNG STAR PLAYING IN FINE STYLE

Jim Bottomley Only Other National Player In Line For Honor.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The two leading candidates for the most valuable player award of the National League this season are Freddy Lindstrom, third baseman of the New York Giants, and Jim Bottomley, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lindstrom's brilliant all-round play largely has been responsible for the winning streak of the Giants who have climbed to within five and half games of the league-leading Cardinals.

Lindstrom's bat alone drove in enough runs to beat the Cardinals yesterday. His two hits—a single and a triple—accounted for five of the Giants' ten runs. The Giants have won 12 out of 16 games against the western clubs, and no player on the New York club has contributed more to the pennant drive.

New York players are loud in their praise of Lindstrom, and even President Charles A. Stoneham rates him the best player in the league.

"It would be a great surprise and a keen disappointment to me if Lindstrom were passed up for the most valuable player award," Stoneham said.

The St. Louis first sacker has played no small part in the success of the Cardinals.

A comparison of the batting averages of Lindstrom and Bottomley follows:

Player	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Lindstrom	99	418	62	147	.352
Bottomley	104	404	92	140	.346

No more interesting character is performing in the major leagues than Lindstrom, who was a world series star at 18. He hit .333 in the 1922 world series between the Giants and Washington Senators, making four hits off Walter Johnson in one game.

Lindstrom comes of the same mixture as Charles Lindbergh. His mother was Irish and his father was Swedish.

Oddly enough, Lindstrom was not expected to be one of the stars of the Giants this season.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—A yearling colt by Whisk Broom II out of Payment has been sold by Mrs. Thomas J. Regan, of Muir, Ky., for $75,000, a record price for yearlings. The purchaser is the East-Land Farm syndicate, whose members have refused to reveal their identity.

He was troubled by his spine last year and had to play the outfield most of the time. When he did play third base last year he had to be strapped in a steel corset. Back in physical shape, Lindstrom has proved to be the most valuable player of the New York club.

U. S. BOXING TEAM TO CONTINUE IN OLYMPIC CONTESTS

By FRANK GETTY
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—American sportsmanship prevailed today and the threat that the United States team would withdraw from the Olympic boxing contests was ended.

"Americans never quit," General Douglas MacArthur said in ordering the boxers to continue their matches.

Last night Jacob Stumpf, manager of the American boxers, petitioned General MacArthur to withdraw the United States team as a protest against the decision that gave a three round match to Marcel Santos of Belgium over Hyman Miller, American flyweight.

The decision had been booed, Miller cried when it was announced and Spike Webb, coach of the United States team, frankly called the decision a "robbery."

The decision did look bad, and most of the judging here has been not of the best but General MacArthur insisted the United States was in the meet until the last.

In the first boxing match on today's program Taylor, English flyweight, defeated Trillo of Argentina by a decision.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero, Larry Benton, New York Giants' ace, who held the league-leading Cardinals to six hits, the Giants winning 10 to 1. It was Benton's eighteenth victory and twenty-first complete game of the season. The Giants drove Flint Rhem out of the box in the eighth, scoring eight runs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Brooklyn Robins twice, 4-3 and 3-2, extending their winning streak to six straight. Burleigh Grimes won his twentieth game of the season, holding the Robins to seven hits in the first game. P. Waner's single in the twelfth won the second game.

The last place Philadelphia Phillies won their third straight game from the Chicago Cubs 4 to 2. Virgil Davis hit a home run with a mate on base.

The New York Yankees closed their disastrous western trip with a 4 to 3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Herb Pennock won his sixteenth game of the season.

Owen Carroll baffled the Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers beat the Mackmen, 4 to 1. Carroll won his thirteenth victory of the season and drove in the deciding run in the seventh with a triple.

Holding the Cleveland Indians to eight scattered hits, Sad Sam Jones pitched the Washington Senators to an 8 to 0 victory.

Lu Blue hit home runs as the St. Louis Browns beat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5. Blue's second homer in the ninth won the game.

with Brooklyn. Sunny Jim was a success from the first. In only one year since 1922 Bottomley has failed to hit .300 and then, in 1926, he averaged .299. His best year was in 1923 when he batted at a .371 stride. This year he may set new records for himself.

Cocky Yet Modest
Bottomley is a strange combination of cockiness and modesty. In fact it is rather remarkable that his head has not been turned by the adulation he receives in St. Louis. When he appears at the plate in a tight place the crowd takes up a chant. "There goes the old ball game." Frequently, indeed, there the ball game goes.

But whether he rolls out to the pitcher or propels the ball out of the park Bottomley will come back to the bench smiling. With his cap tilted far on the back of his head and walking with an exaggerated sailor's gait he will approach his team-mates and "kid" with them.

Bottomley looks lazy and in truth that adjective might well be applied to him off the field. But while playing he is filled with pepper and constantly encourages his mates.

When Rogers Hornsby managed the Cards he said that Bottomley was the greatest hustler on the club.

"I'd rather see Jim Bottomley at the plate when a run is badly needed than any other player I could name," Hornsby said.

There is a dark suspicion that even the umpires like Jim. When a close decision goes against him he slides his cap off the back of his head, looks forgivingly at the arbiter—and laughs.

PASSING OF GENE TUNNEY IS TRAGIC, MAULIFFE WRITES

By JACK MAULIFFE
Retired Undeclared Lightweight Champion

(Copyright 1928 by United Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The passing of Gene Tunney without a sob or a sigh seems tragic.

The reason Tunney retired is that he put book-learning before his profession. Although he was not a hypocrite as many tried to make him out, Tunney did not like to fight. The word fight was even repulsive to him.

If Tunney had loved to fight, he would have been one of the greatest, champions of all time. He had all the natural assets of a fighter but he lacked the heart of a fighter.

Tunney was not the first well-read heavyweight champion, as many believe. John L. Sullivan had the head of a Daniel Webster and could hold his own with college professors. What made Sullivan the most popular champion that ever lived was that he had a standing challenge to fight any man in the world.

Tunney could have been as popular as any heavyweight champion if he had possessed the desire to devote himself wholly to the ring and not let outside influences take him away from his profession. Tunney retired at the peak of his career. He still has many good battles left in him, but once away from the ring a man of his temperament is not apt to come back again.

I can see no one now to take Tunney's place. Tommy Loughran, the light-heavyweight champion, will make a mistake by trying to win the heavyweight title. No good little man can whip a good big man.

Al Simmons: Singled once in three trips.

Roger Hornsby: Idle.

Frankie Frisch: Singled once in three times up.

P. Waner: His single in the twelfth gave the Pirates a 3 to 2 victory over the Robins in the first game after getting a single, double and home run in four times up in the first game.

U. S. BOXING TEAM TO CONTINUE IN OLYMPIC CONTESTS

By FRANK GETTY
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—American sportsmanship prevailed today and the threat that the United States team would withdraw from the Olympic boxing contests was ended.

"Americans never quit," General Douglas MacArthur said in ordering the boxers to continue their matches.

Last night Jacob Stumpf, manager of the American boxers, petitioned General MacArthur to withdraw the United States team as a protest against the decision that gave a three round match to Marcel Sartos of Belgium over Hyman Miller, American fly-weight.

The decision had been booed, Miller cried when it was announced and Spike Webb, coach of the United States team, frankly called the decision a "robbery."

The decision did look bad and most of the judging here has been not of the best but General MacArthur insisted the United States was in the meet until the last.

In the first boxing match on today's program Taylor, English flyweight, defeated Trillo of Argentina by a decision.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero: Larry Benton, New York Giants' ace, who held the league-leading Cardinals to six hits, the Giants winning 10 to 1. It was Benton's eighteenth victory and twenty-first complete game of the season. The Giants drove Flint Rhem out of the box in the eighth, scoring eight runs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Brooklyn Robins twice, 4-3 and 3-2, extending their winning streak to six straight. Burleigh Grimes won his twentieth game of the season, holding the Robins to seven hits in the first game. P. Waner's single in the twelfth won the second game.

The last place Philadelphia Phillies won their third straight game from the Chicago Cubs 4 to 2. Virgil Davis hit a home run with a mate on base.

The New York Yankees closed their disastrous western trip with a 4 to 3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Herb Pennock won his sixteenth game of the season.

Owen Carroll baffled the Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers beat the Mackmen, 4 to 1. Carroll won his thirteenth victory of the season and drove in the deciding run in the seventh with a triple.

Holding the Cleveland Indians to eight scattered hits, Sad Sam Jones pitched the Washington Senators to an 8 to 0 victory.

Lu Blue hit home runs as the St. Louis Browns beat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5. Blue's second homer in the ninth won the game.

LARGEST PLANE IN WORLD MAKES TRIP

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—The largest airplane ever built, the Rohrbach Romar which will be used in commercial service between Germany and South America, made its first successful trial flight today at Warnemuende on the Pacific coast.

The giant craft, weighing 12 tons without a full load, left the water within 14.6 seconds and remained in the air 20 minutes.

Pilot Steindorff was at the controls and two mechanics accompanied him.

The Rohrbach-Romar has three motors.

ITALIAN SUB RAISED; ALL ABOARD DEAD

Gases Kill 31 Members of Crew Although Craft's Raised Quickly.

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Aug. 8.—Its black-draped flag half-masted, the submarine F-14 was towed back to Pola naval base today with the bodies of the two officers and 25 men who perished in it after the little ship
struck a destroyer off Brioni Island in the Adriatic sea.
It had been announced previously that 31 in all were in the ship, including apprentices,
but a revised list today
gave the smaller figure.

ROME, Aug. 8.—The sunken submarine F-14 was lifted to the surface of the Adriatic Sea this morning and the 31 members of her crew found dead within the recking, gas filled interior.
Every agency of the Italian navy had rushed aid to the craft which went down after she rammed the Missouri Monday morning.
Within 48 hours the craft had been located 130 feet below the sea, air hose had been dropped, chains attached, pontoons affixed
and the submersible raised.
But even that was not swift enough to save the lives of the sailors and officers. They had succumbed to the deadly gases—
most of which were believed released when the submersible listed.

Chlorine gas predominated
among the deadly fumes that filled the interior of the sunken craft. The submarine had slanted at a seventy degree angle after striking the bottom and it was believed that sulphuric acid also had been spilled from the storage batteries.

The navy had predicted there would be casualties. But as late as dusk last evening communications came from the sunken craft that 22 men still lived.

Then suddenly all communications ceased. Air lines had been inserted into the sunken craft and air forced in feverishly, with the hope that the fresh oxygen would keep alive the men who had been entombed below the earth's surface.

The craft suddenly was raised to a position within 36 feet of the surface. This brought cheer to the rescuers. It was felt certain some of the men would be saved.
But when the F-14, battered by the collision, finally was lifted it was found that none had survived the deadly fumes.

GOSSIP CAUSES YOUNG WIFE TO SLAY HUSBAND

Woman Says Neighbors' Tales
Drove Her To Stab Man
With Knife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—In the same cell in the Long Island City jail where Ruth Snyder once was held, Mrs. Frances Kirkwood waited today for trial on a charge of stabbing her 26-year-old husband, Glenn, to death.

It was the second murder that has startled the calm of quiet and home-like Queens village for it was in that section where Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray killed Albert Snyder, a crime for which both paid with their lives.

Neighborhood gossip, suspicion and jealousy, were said by police to be the causes of this latest Queens village affair.

Mrs. Kirkwood said she returned from a vacation and heard reports from neighbors that her husband—a young veterinary surgeon she married two years ago
—had been on a number of gay
studio parties while she was away.
She said she was infuriated.

She said they argued Tuesday morning and finally she decided to end her own life. Her husband struggled for possession of the bread knife she held and he was stabbed, dying within a few hours.

Slowly, and between puffs on many cigarettes, the comely matron told her story to authorities.
William Reuman, a radio announcer at whose studio neighborhood gossip had Kirkwood a frequent guest, said that Mrs. Kirkwood had made a wild taxicab ride just previous to the stabbing
and had appeared intoxicated.

DEATH TAKES

Brennan lapsed into unconsciousness at 7:30 p. m. last night. It was then that Dr. C. R.
G. Forrester, chief of medical counsel, announced "there is no hope."

Diabetes, from which Brennan had suffered for eight years, destroyed chances of recovery. A serious kidney condition further complicated matters, physicians reported.

The original illness followed extraction of two abscessed teeth.
Infection spread and necessitated operation July 30. From this operation, Brennan gained partially and until yesterday it was believed he was on his way back to health.

The complications arose yesterday afternoon and were followed by a severe relapse.

Brennan's illness and death shocked the group of friends who long had been associated with him. His headquarters were deserted; the pinocle table, at which he spent many afternoons with friends, was vacant. Political followers had gathered in one room which was connected by phone with the hospital.

BLOW TO SMITH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Death of George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, is regarded by political leaders here as a severe blow to Governor Alfred E. Smith's presidential campaign.

Brennan, for many years regarded as the boss of Illinois democracy, had been counted upon by the Smith forces to carry most of the bur- of its Middle Western campaign.

The dead leader was one of the original Smith-for-President advocates in the democratic party.
He was prominent in Smith's unsuccessful fight for the nomination at New York in 1924, and again in the successful contest at Houston this year.

Brennan, more than any other person from outside New York
perhaps, was responsible for Smith's nomination. He enjoyed the complete confidence of the New York governor and was included in all important political councils of Smith forces.

The Illinois leader had been mentioned as a possible choice for some cabinet post in the event of Smith's election next November.
He ran for the senate but was defeated in 1926.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The

from Captain Byron G. Leek of the steamship Alconquin that he

the message to mean that the

WARNINGS POSTED

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8.—The United States weather bureau early today posted hurricane warnings from Palm Beach to Daytona.

The tropical disturbance was reported centering at 5 a. m. off
the coast near Palm Beach.

Daytona should feel the brunt
of the hurricane later in the day,
the bureau said.

EAST COAST CUT OFF

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—The

full force of the tropical hurricane, which swept a 50-mile portion of the Florida east coast between Palm Beach and Fort Pierce last night, was expected to descend this morning on Daytona with indications it was gathering force as it whipped northward.

Approaching in intensity the hurricane which devastated Miami in 1926, the storm traced a path from the Bahama islands
Monday toward the coast, curving out to sea, and returning Tuesday afternoon toward Florida.
Its center apparently was Jupiter, north of Palm Beach, but the latter city felt the edge of the high winds. A 70-mile an hour gale did considerable damage in Palm Beach.

Early today almost the entire east Florida coast, south of Daytona, was cut off from communication with the rest of the world.
The radio station at Jupiter was unable to send messages but still was able to intercept messages sent there.

Cities in Darkness

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were in darkness last night.
Huge waves hammered the ocean

boulevard running south and north from Palm Beach and it was feared the drive was doomed. It was almost completely destroyed in the 1926 hurricane.

The Mallory line steamer Algonquin, with 350 passengers aboard, last night reported it was in distress off Jupiter light, having lost its bearings in the tempest. Jupiter light was reported out shortly after the vessel radioed its difficulties. Most of the passengers were said to be women. An unidentified vessel has reported to be standing by. The Algonquin left Key West Monday night enroute from Galveston, Tex., to New York.

Will Miss Miami

Reports from Miami before communication lines went out, indicated the city had escaped the storm. Richard W. Gray, U. S. meteorologist there, said then the storm would probably not strike
Miami, although the barometer
reading there last night was 29.85, or 15 points below normal. Squa-lly winds and rain were the only indications that the hurricane was near north of Miami.

Meanwhile, the United States
weather bureau at Washington announced another hurricane had formed in the vicinity of Porto Rico and was sweeping northwest toward the Florida coast in the wake of the other storm. This new tropical disturbance was described as of considerable intensity.

From Fort Pierce came reports of winds of 60-mile velocity.
Houses at Fort Pierce were unroofed and considerable other damage caused, reports said.

The barometer at Palm Beach started to drop sharply Tuesday afternoon. By 8 p. m. last night it was down to 29.35. At Palm Beach palm trees were uprooted, signs torn down, houses damaged and boats blown on shore from the fury of the gale.

The populations of Palm Beach and West Palm Beach became anxious as the force of the wind climbed steadily from 40 miles an hour late Tuesday afternoon to 70 miles shortly before midnight.

Only a costly army of repairmen constantly on the alert can turn them back for long unless pavements are bedded right and

Why maintain this expensive repair force in the field when you can fortify impregnably against each and every enemy of your streets and highways?

The answer is simple as A, B, C.

Pave with VITRIFIED BRICK

That this will ably solve the problems of any street or road in your community for a generation to come has been demonstrated in other localities time after time.
There are reasons, of course, why this is true. Not only because of the constantly reproven durability of Brick but for other reasons as well. Note Them—

1st—DURABILITY—Vitrified Brick Pavments will outlast by many years any other type.
They are not affected by weather, climatic and atmospheric conditions. Gasoline and oil drippings from parked automobiles, which are very injurious to bituminous types of pavements,
have no damaging effect whatever on Vitrified

dent or rut these Brick pavements. A Vitrified Brick Pavement does not wear out from the top

2nd—BEAUTY—Brick pavements, when built according to modern engineering principals, are smooth, noiseless and pleasing to the eye. The soft red of the pavement blends itself perfectly with the green of trees and lawns and the white of sidewalks and approaches. Also, there is no

GOSSIP CAUSES YOUNG WIFE TO SLAY HUSBAND

Woman Says Neighbors' Tales Drove Her To Stab Man With Knife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—In the same cell in the Long Island City jail where Ruth Snyder once was held, Mrs. Frances Kirkwood waited today for trial on a charge of stabbing her 26-year-old husband, Glenn, to death.

It was the second murder that has started the calm of quiet and home-like Queens village for it was in that section where Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray killed Albert Snyder, a crime for which both paid with their lives.

Neighborhood gossip, suspicion and jealousy, were said by police to be the causes of this latest Queens village affair.

Mrs. Kirkwood said she returned from a vacation and heard reports from neighbors that her husband—a young veterinary surgeon she married two years ago—had been on a number of gay studio parties while she was away. She said she was infuriated.

She said they argued Tuesday morning and finally she decided to end her own life. Her husband struggled for possession of the bread knife she held and he was stabbed, dying within a few hours.

Slowly, and between puffs on many cigarettes, the comely matron told her story to authorities.

William Reuman, a radio announcer at whose studio neighborhood gossip had Kirkwood a frequent guest, said that Mrs. Kirkwood had made a wild taxicab ride just previous to the stabbing and had appeared intoxicated.

Brennan lapsed into unconsciousness at 7:30 p. m. last night. It was then that Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, chief of medical counsel, announced "there is no hope."

Diabetes, from which Brennan had suffered for eight years, destroyed chances of recovery. A serious kidney condition further complicated matters, physicians reported.

The original illness followed extraction of two abscessed teeth. Infection spread and necessitated operation July 30. From this operation, Brennan gained partially and until yesterday it was believed he was on his way back to health.

The complications arose yesterday afternoon and were followed by a severe relapse.

Brennan's illness and death shocked the group of friends who long had been associated with him. His headquarters were deserted; the pinocle table, at which he spent many afternoons with friends, was vacant. Political followers had gathered in one room which was connected by phone with the hospital.

BLOW TO SMITH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Death of George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, is regarded by political leaders here as a severe blow to Governor Alfred E. Smith's presidential campaign.

Brennan, for many years regarded as the boss of Illinois democracy, had been counted upon by the Smith forces to carry most of the burden of its Middle Western campaign.

The dead leader was one of the original Smith-for-President advocates in the democratic party. He was prominent in Smith's unsuccessful fight for the nomination at New York in 1924, and again in the successful contest at Houston this year.

Brennan, more than any other person from outside New York perhaps, was responsible for Smith's nomination. He enjoyed the complete confidence of the New York governor and was included in all important political councils of Smith forces.

The Illinois leader had been mentioned as a possible choice for some cabinet post in the event of Smith's election next November. He ran for the senate but was defeated in 1926.

ALGONQUIN SAFE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Mallory steamship line reported receipt of a radio message today from Captain Byron G. Leek of the steamship Algonquin that he had put in at the Florida straits. The steamship line interpreted the message to mean that the Algonquin had escaped the worst of the storm off Florida, had put in at the straits for protection, and that she had her bearings.

WARNINGS POSTED

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8.—The United States weather bureau early today posted hurricane warnings from Palm Beach to Daytona.

The tropical disturbance was reported centering at 5 a. m. off the coast near Palm Beach.

Daytona should feel the brunt of the hurricane later in the day, the bureau said.

EAST COAST CUT OFF

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—The

full force of the tropical hurricane, which swept a 50-mile portion of the Florida east coast between Palm Beach and Fort Pierce last night, was expected to descend this morning on Daytona with indications it was gathering force as it whipped northward.

Approaching in intensity the hurricane which devastated Miami in 1926, the storm traced a path from the Bahama islands Monday toward the coast, curving out to sea, and returning Tuesday afternoon toward Florida.

Its center apparently was Jupiter, north of Palm Beach, but the latter city felt the edge of the high winds. A 70-mile an hour gale did considerable damage in Palm Beach.

Early today almost the entire east Florida coast, south of Daytona, was cut off from communication with the rest of the world. The radio station at Jupiter was unable to send messages but still was able to intercept messages sent there.

Cities in Darkness

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were in darkness last night. Huge waves hammered the ocean boulevard running south and north from Palm Beach and it was feared the drive was doomed. It was almost completely destroyed in the 1926 hurricane.

The Mallory line steamer Algonquin, with 350 passengers aboard, last night reported it was in distress off Jupiter light, having lost its bearings in the tempest. Jupiter light was reported out shortly after the vessel radioed its difficulties. Most of the passengers were said to be women. An unidentified vessel had reported to be standing by. The Algonquin left Key West Monday night enroute from Galveston, Tex., to New York.

Will Miss Miami

Reports from Miami before communication lines went out, indicated the city had escaped the storm. Richard W. Gray, U. S. meteorologist there, said then the storm would probably not strike Miami, although the barometer reading there last night was 29.85, or 15 points below normal. Squally winds and rain were the only indications that the hurricane was nearing north of Miami.

Meanwhile, the United States weather bureau at Washington announced another hurricane had formed in the vicinity of Porto Rico and was sweeping northwest toward the Florida coast in the wake of the other storm. This new tropical disturbance was described as of considerable intensity.

From Fort Pierce came reports of winds of 60-mile velocity. Houses at Fort Pierce were unroofed and considerable other damage caused, reports said.

The barometer at Palm Beach started to drop sharply Tuesday afternoon. By 8 p. m. last night it was down to 29.35. At Palm Beach palm trees were uprooted, signs torn down, houses damaged and boats blown on shore from the fury of the gale.

The populace of Palm Beach and West Palm Beach became anxious as the force of the wind climbed steadily from 40 miles an hour late Tuesday afternoon to 70 miles shortly before midnight.

Enemies of the Road-

Expanding Heat—Contracting Cold—Biting Oil—Surface and Underground Floods of Moisture—Rasping Chains—Crushing Pounding Traffic—These Enemies of the Road unite to tear and mash at all surfaces.

Only a costly army of repairmen constantly on the alert can turn them back for long unless pavements are bedded right and surfaced with the toughest material obtainable.

Why maintain this expensive repair force in the field when you can fortify impregnably against each and every enemy of your streets and highways?

The answer is simple as A, B, C.

Pave with

VITRIFIED BRICK

That this will ably solve the problems of any street or road in your community for a generation to come has been demonstrated in other localities time after time. There are reasons, of course, why this is true. Not only because of the constantly reproven durability of Brick but for other reasons as well. Note Them—

1st—DURABILITY—Vitrified Brick Pavements will outlast by many years any other type. They are not affected by weather, climatic and atmospheric conditions. Gasoline and oil drippings from parked automobiles, which are very injurious to bituminous types of pavements, have no damaging effect whatever on Vitrified Brick, neither will parking on hot summer days dent or rut those Brick pavements. A Vitrified Brick Pavement does not wear out from the top down under existing traffic.

2nd—BEAUTY—Brick pavements, when built according to modern engineering principals, are smooth, noiseless and pleasing to the eye. The soft red of the pavement blends itself perfectly with the green of trees and lawns and the white of sidewalks and approaches. Also, there is no glare.

3rd—SAFETY—A Brick pavement, although smooth and easy for traffic, affords the highest degree of safety to auto drivers and pedestrians, and especially to the little ones. It is gritty and does not invite little children to play on it with roller skates, scooters or similar toys, thereby endangering their lives and safety. It has enough resistance to enable drivers of motor vehicles to use their brakes effectively in an emergency.

4th—TAXPAYERS ECONOMY (other than of Durability)—Modern Vitrified Brick Pavements are real economy to the assessed, as well as to the general taxpayer. They require a minimum of maintenance and repair and are, therefore, never closed to traffic, causing unpleasant detours. Should water or sewer cuts be made into the street the Brick can be salvaged and replaced without detection by the street repair force, providing the fill and foundation are placed back properly.

Informative Booklets showing what Brick is doing and has done for other communities will gladly be sent on request.

Pave right and it's only necessary to pave once!

ITALIAN SUB RAISED; ALL ABOARD DEAD

Gases Kill 31 Members of Crew Although Craft's Raised Quickly.

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Aug. 8.—Its black-draped flag half-masted, the submarine F-14 was towed back to Pola naval base today with the bodies of the two officers and 25 men who perished in it after the little ship struck a destroyer off Brioni island in the Adriatic sea.

It had been announced previously that 31 in all were in the ship, including apprentices, but a revised list today gave the smaller figure.

ROME, Aug. 8.—The sunken submarine F-14 was lifted to the surface of the Adriatic Sea this morning and the 31 members of her crew found dead within the reeking, gas-filled interior.

Every agency of the Italian navy had rushed aid to the craft which went down after she rammed the Missouri Monday morning.

Within 48 hours the craft had been located 130 feet below the sea, air hose had been dropped, chains attached, pontoons affixed and the submersible raised.

But even that was not swift enough to save the lives of the sailors and officers. They had succumbed to the deadly gases—most of which were believed released when the submersible tilted.

Chlorine gas predominated among the deadly fumes that filled the interior of the sunken craft. The submarine had slanted at a seventy degree angle after striking the bottom and it was believed that sulphuric acid also had been spilled from the storage batteries.

The navy had predicted there would be casualties. But as late as dusk last evening communications came from the sunken craft that 22 men still lived.

Then suddenly all communications ceased. Air lines had been inserted into the sunken craft and air forced in feverishly, with the hope that the fresh oxygen would keep alive the men who had been entombed below the earth's surface.

The craft suddenly was raised to a position within 36 feet of the surface. This brought cheer to the rescuers. It was the certain hope of the men would be saved. But when the F-14, battered by the collision, finally was lifted it was found that none had survived the deadly fumes.

Pave with

VITRIFIED BRICK

That this will ably solve the problems of any street or road in your community for a generation to come has been demonstrated in other localities time after time.

There are reasons, of course, why this is true. Not only because of the constantly reproven durability of Brick but for other reasons as well. Note Them—

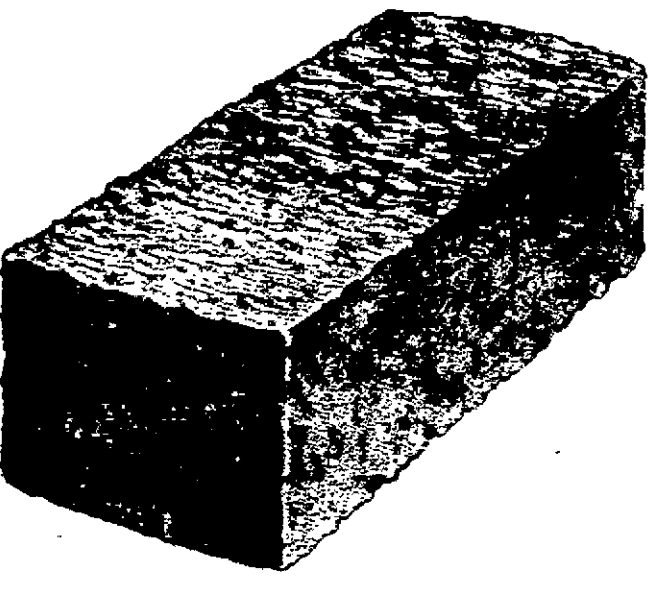

1st—DURABILITY—Vitrified Brick Pavements will outlast by many years any other type. They are not affected by weather, climatic and atmospheric conditions. Gasoline and oil drippings from parked automobiles, which are very injurious to bituminous types of pavements, have no damaging effect whatever on Vitrified Brick, neither will parking on hot summer days dent or rut these Brick pavements. A Vitrified Brick Pavement does not wear out from the top down under existing traffic.

2nd—BEAUTY—Brick pavements, when built according to modern engineering principals, are smooth, noiseless and pleasing to the eye. The soft red of the pavement blends itself perfectly with the green of trees and lawns and the white of sidewalks and approaches. Also, there is no glare.

Informative Booklets showing what Brick is doing and has done for other communities will gladly be sent on request.

Pave right and it's only necessary to pave once!

Lindstrom Looms As Best National Player

GIANTS' YOUNG STAR PLAYING IN FINE STYLE

Jim Bottomley Only Other National Player In Line For Honor.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The two leading candidates for the most valuable player award of the National League this season are Freddy Lindstrom, third baseman of the New York Giants, and Jim Bottomley, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Lindstrom's brilliant all-round play largely has been responsible for the winning streak of the Giants who have elbowed to within five and half games of the league-leading Cardinals.

Lindstrom's bat alone drove in enough runs to beat the Cardinals yesterday. His two hits—a single and a triple—accounted for five of the Giants' ten runs. The Giants have won 12 out of 16 games against the western clubs, and no player on the New York club has contributed more to the pennant drive.

New York players are loud in their praise of Lindstrom, and even President Charles A. Stoneham rates him the best player in the league.

"It would be a great surprise and a keen disappointment to me if Lindstrom were passed up for the most valuable player award," Stoneham said.

The St. Louis first sacker has played no small part in the success of the Cardinals.

A comparison of the batting averages of Lindstrom and Bottomley follows:

Player	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Lindstrom	99	418	62	147	.352
Bottomley	104	404	92	140	.346

No more interesting character is performing in the major leagues than Lindstrom, who was a world series star at 18. He hit .333 in the 1924 world series between the Giants and Washington Senators, making four hits off Walter Johnson in one game.

Lindstrom comes of the same mixture as Charles Lindbergh. His mother was Irish and his father was Swedish.

Oddly enough, Lindstrom was not expected to be one of the stars of the Giants this season.

EXTRA SEATS PLACED FOR BOUT TONIGHT

Fight fans are assured of plenty of action at the show at Dewey Park tonight. Twenty-four rounds are on tap.

An extra attraction is promised by the appearance of Phil O'Dowd, well known boxer, who will be in Patsy McMann's corner when this fighting Irishman from Dayton mixes it with Cy Mellman, New York Hebrew. Jackie Mellman, a brother, will be in Cy's corner. Jackie one time fought with Sid Terris.

Extra seats are being installed to handle what is expected to be a capacity crowd.

Popular prices will prevail.

$75,000 FOR COLT
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—A yearling colt by Whisk Broom II out of Payment has been sold by Mrs. Thomas J. Regan, of Muir, Ky., for $75,000, a record price for yearlings. The purchaser is the East-Land Farm syndicate, whose members have refused to reveal their identity.

He was troubled by his spine last year and had to play the outfield most of the time. When he did play third base last year he had to be strapped in a steel corset. Back in physical shape Lindstrom has proved to be the most valuable player of the New York club.

By FRANK GETTY

James Leroy Bottomley was born at Oglesby, Ill., on the 23rd of April, 1900. Now that he has attained the ripe age of 28 he is one of the best ball players in captivity and the idol of St. Louis fans.

Despite extra heavy competition the Cardinals have managed to stay atop the National League procession and one of the major reasons for their success is found at first base. "Sunny Jim," not only fields his position nobly but he is a leader in runs batted in, extra bases and a number of other departments.

He's a "ball-player's ball-player" is Jim Bottomley and that is a distinction held by few stars of the diamond. His abilities are recognized by his confederates as well as the spectators and no one yet has accused James Leroy of grandstanding.

The statisticians have never figured it out but Bottomley probably has won more games by a prodigious swat in the ninth inning than any other slugger. He is always dangerous in the pinch. He and Frankie Frisch, working together so capably, give the Cards the best unit on the right side of the diamond in baseball.

Came From Sand-Lots
Bottomley came to the Cards in 1920 off the sand-lots—a raw, gangly recruit. He was sent on option to the Mitchell club of the Dakota League and there struck a .312 gait with the stick.

The next year he was promoted to faster company—the Houston club of the Texas League—and there he fell into an unaccountable slump. His average for 130 games was .227.

But the Syracuse team in the International League liked him well enough to expend $1,000 for him. Bottomley performed so admirably that in August the Cards paid an unnamed sum and sent three players in exchange for the first baseman.

With the Cardinals Bottomley replaced Jacques Fournier, later

U. S. BOXING TEAM TO CONTINUE IN OLYMPIC CONTESTS

By FRANK GETTY
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—American sportsmanship prevailed today and the threat that the United States team would withdraw from the Olympic boxing contests was ended.

"Americans never quit," General Douglas MacArthur said in ordering the boxers to continue their matches.

Last night Jacob Stumpf, manager of the American boxers, petitioned General MacArthur to withdraw the United States team as a protest against the decision that gave a three round match to Marcel Sartos of Belgium over Hyman Miller, American flyweight.

The decision had been booed, Miller cried when it was announced and Spike Webb, coach of the United States team, frankly called the decision a "robbery." The decision did look bad and most of the judging here has been not of the best but General MacArthur insisted the United States was in the meet until the last.

In the first boxing match on today's program Taylor, English flyweight, defeated Trillo of Argentina by a decision.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero, Larry Benton, New York Giants' ace, who held the league-leading Cardinals to six hits, the Giants winning 10 to 1. It was Benton's eighteenth victory and twenty-first complete game of the season. The Giants drove Flint Rhem out of the box in the eighth, scoring eight runs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Brooklyn Robins twice, 4-3 and 3-2, extending their winning streak to six straight. Burleigh Grimes won his twentieth game of the season, holding the Robins to seven hits in the first game. P. Waner's single in the twelfth won the second game.

The last place Philadelphia Phillies won their third straight game from the Chicago Cubs 4 to 2. Virgil Davis hit a home run with a mate on base.

The New York Yankees closed their disastrous western trip with a 4 to 3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Herb Pennock won his sixteenth game of the season.

Owen Carroll baffled the Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers beat the Mackmen, 4 to 1. Carroll won his thirteenth victory of the season and drove in the deciding run in the seventh with a triple.

Holding the Cleveland Indians to eight scattered hits, Sad Sam Jones pitched the Washington Senators to an 8 to 0 victory.

Lu Blue hit home runs as the St. Louis Browns beat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5. Blue's second homer in the ninth won the game.

LARGEST PLANE IN WORLD MAKES TRIP

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—The largest airplane ever built, the Rohrbach Romar which will be used in commercial service between Germany and South America, made its first successful trial flight today at Warnemuende on the Pacific coast.

The giant craft, weighing 12 tons without a full load, left the water within 14.6 seconds and remained in the air 20 minutes.

Pilot Steindorff was at the controls and two mechanics accompanied him.

The Rohrbach-Romar has three motors.

Mrs. Wealtha Vieth Abernethy
Democratic Candidate for
CLERK OF COURTS

This is to remind you that the best assurance of your support, is your vote for me at the POLLS. I am asking the support of all voters. Women are being increasingly called for jury service, and they are in error in refusing to vote thinking thereby to escape jury service.

REMEMBER, it was the men who gave the women the right to vote and if they can vote, why not hold office, if the office sought is a suitable one. Men are asking and expect to receive the support of women voters. When one representing mothers, wives, sisters and daughters asks their support for an office purely clerical, which can be acceptably filled by a woman, should they not reciprocate? Since women were given universal suffrage, I have consistently voted the Democratic Ticket. We have WOMEN CLERK OF COURTS in Ross, Fayette, Fairfield and other counties, and I am submitting my candidacy for that office in Pickaway. I am not unaccustomed to work commencing at the age of 16; later appointed Court Stenographer by a Democratic Judge. I was retained by a Republican Judge, serving seven years, as efficiency took precedence over politics. For 25 years I have been intimately associated with the responsibilities of a law office, and the Clerk of Court's office always filled by a layman, will not find me inexperienced. I feel I can serve you efficiently and well. A woman cannot campaign like a man, and I find it impossible to see every voter. My resources are limited—owning a small farm, providing a liability rather than an asset. I have helped in my way, both city and county, and leave the result with you as fellow workers and fellow voters. I urge attendance at the Polls August 14th—it is both your privilege and your duty. Respectfully submitted,
(MRS.) WEALTHA VIETH ABERNETHY.

Knowing Mrs. Abernethy to be competent for the office sought, I endorse her candidacy. I am confident she will add strength to the Ticket at the November election.

Yours for Democracy,
I. N. Abernethy.

PLANS OF STATE TO RE-ESTABLISH SCHOOL HELD UP

Recommendations On Junior College In Ross-Co. Are Being Awaited.

Plans of the state to establish its first Junior College at Greenfield, Ross-co., are being temporarily held up pending recommendations to be made to State Director of Education John L. Clifton, by a committee of the Ohio College Association which is gathering data on the plan.

That the first of these colleges will be located in Greenfield High school seems assured inasmuch as that school is declared to be the most modern and one of the best and best equipped plants in the state. Greenfield is only a short distance from Chillicothe, and is within easy access to several well populated towns.

Clifton expects a report from the college association committee within a short time. The association was selected to take up the work of investigating the plan after a committee of professors previously named by Clifton failed to carry it out.

ITALIAN SUB RAISED; ALL ABOARD DEAD

Gases Kill 31 Members of Crew Although Craft's Raised Quickly.

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Aug. 8.—Its black-draped flag half-masted, the submarine F-14 was towed back to Pola naval base today with the bodies of the two officers and 25 men who perished in it after the little ship struck a destroyer off Brioni island in the Adriatic sea.

It had been announced previously that 31 in all were in the ship, including apprentices, but a revised list today gave the smaller figure.

Every ally of the Italian navy had rushed aid to the craft which went down after she rammed the Misori Monday morning. Within 48 hours the craft had been located 130 feet below the sea, air hose had been dropped, chains attached, pontoons affixed and the submersible raised.

But even that was not swift enough to save the lives of the sailors and officers. They had succumbed to the deadly gases—most of which were believed released when the submersible listed.

Chlorine gas predominated among the deadly fumes that filled the interior of the sunken craft. The submarine had slanted at a seventy degree angle after striking the bottom and it was believed that sulphuric acid also had been spilled from the storage batteries.

The navy had predicted there would be casualties. But as late as dusk last evening communications came from the sunken craft that 22 men still lived.

Then suddenly all communications ceased. Air lines had been inserted into the sunken craft and air forced in feverishly, with the hope that the fresh oxygen would keep alive the men who had been entombed below the earth's surface.

The craft suddenly was raised to a position within 36 feet of the surface. This brought cheer to the rescuers. It was felt certain some of the men would be saved. But when the F-14, battered by the collision, finally was lifted it was found that none had survived the deadly fumes.

GOSSIP CAUSES YOUNG WIFE TO SLAY HUSBAND

Woman Says Neighbors' Tales Drove Her To Stab Man With Knife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—In the same cell in the Long Island City jail where Ruth Snyder once was held, Mrs. Frances Kirkwood waited today for trial on a charge of stabbing her 26-year-old husband, Glenn, to death.

It was the second murder that has startled the calm of quiet and home-like Queens village for it was in that section where Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray killed Albert Snyder, a crime for which both paid with their lives.

Neighborhood gossip, suspicion and jealousy, were said by police to be the causes of this latest Queens village affair.

Mrs. Kirkwood said she returned from a vacation and heard reports from neighbors that her husband—a young veterinary surgeon she married two years ago—had been on a number of gay studio parties while she was away. She said she was infuriated.

She said they argued Tuesday morning and finally she decided to end her own life. Her husband struggled for possession of the bread knife she held and he was stabbed, dying within a few hours.

Slowly, and between puffs on many cigarettes, the comely matron told her story to authorities. William Reuman, a radio announcer at whose studio neighborhood gossip had Kirkwood a frequent guest, said that Mrs. Kirkwood had made a wild taxicab ride just previous to the stabbing and had appeared intoxicated.

Brennan lapsed into unconsciousness at 7:30 p. m. last night. It was then that Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, chief of medical council, announced "there is no hope."

Diabetes, from which Brennan had suffered for eight years, destroyed chances of recovery. A serious kidney condition further complicated matters, physicians reported.

The original illness followed extraction of two abscessed teeth. Infection spread and necessitated operation July 30. From this operation, Brennan gained partially and until yesterday it was believed he was on his way back to health.

The complications arose yesterday afternoon and were followed by a severe relapse.

Brennan's illness and death shocked the group of friends who long had been associated with him. His headquarters were deserted; the pinochle table, at which he spent many afternoons with friends, was vacant. Political followers had gathered in one room which was connected by phone with the hospital.

BLOW TO SMITH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Death of George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman from Illinois, is regarded by political leaders here as a severe blow to Governor Alfred E. Smith's presidential campaign.

Brennan, for many years regarded as the boss of Illinois democracy, had been counted upon by the Smith forces to carry most of the burr of its Middle Western campaign.

The dead leader was one of the original Smith-for-President advocates in the democratic party. He was prominent in Smith's unsuccessful fight for the nomination at New York in 1924, and again in the successful contest at Houston this year.

Brennan, more than any other person from outside New York perhaps, was responsible for Smith's nomination. He enjoyed the complete confidence of the New York governor and was included in all important political councils of Smith forces.

The Illinois leader had been mentioned as a possible choice for some cabinet post in the event of Smith's election next November. He ran for the senate but was defeated in 1926.

ALCONQUIN SAFE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Mallory steamship line reported receipt of a radio message today from Captain Byron G. Leek of the steamship Alconquin that he had put in at the Florida straits. The steamship line interpreted the message to mean that the Alconquin had escaped the worst of the storm off Florida, had put in at the straits for protection, and that she had her bearings.

WARNINGS POSTED

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8.—The United States weather bureau early today posted hurricane warnings from Palm Beach to Daytona.

The tropical disturbance was reported centering at 5 a. m. off the coast near Palm Beach.

Daytona should feel the brunt of the hurricane later in the day, the bureau said.

EAST COAST CUT OFF
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—The

full force of the tropical hurricane, which swept a 50-mile portion of the Florida east coast between Palm Beach and Fort Pierce last night, was expected to descend this morning on Daytona with indications it was gathering force as it whipped northward.

Approaching in intensity the hurricane which devastated Miami in 1926, the storm traced a path from the Bahama islands Monday toward the coast, curving out to sea, and returning Tuesday afternoon toward Florida.

Its center apparently was Jupiter, north of Palm Beach, but the latter city felt the edge of the high winds. A 70-mile an hour gale did considerable damage in Palm Beach.

Early today almost the entire east Florida coast, south of Daytona, was cut off from communication with the rest of the world. The radio station at Jupiter was unable to send messages but still was able to intercept messages sent there.

Cities in Darkness

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were in darkness last night. Huge waves hammered the ocean

boulevard running south and north from Palm Beach and it was feared the drive was doomed. It was almost completely destroyed in the 1926 hurricane.

The Mallory line steamer Alconquin, with 350 passengers aboard, last night reported it was in distress off Jupiter light, having lost its bearings in the tempest. Jupiter light was reported out shortly after the vessel radioed its difficulties. Most of the passengers were said to be women. An unidentified vessel has reported to be standing by. The Alconquin left Key West Monday night enroute from Galveston, Tex., to New York.

Will Miss Miami

Reports from Miami before communication lines went out, indicated the city had escaped the storm. Richard W. Gray, U. S. meteorologist there, said then the storm would probably not strike Miami, although the barometer reading there last night was 29.85, or 15 points below normal. Squally winds and rain were the only indications that the hurricane was racing north of Miami.

Meanwhile, the United States weather bureau at Washington announced another hurricane had formed in the vicinity of Porto Rico and was sweeping northwest toward the Florida coast in the wake of the other storm. This new tropical disturbance was described as of considerable intensity.

From Fort Pierce came reports of winds of 60-mile velocity. Houses at Fort Pierce were unroofed and considerable other damage caused, reports said.

The barometer at Palm Beach started to drop sharply Tuesday afternoon. By 8 p. m. last night it was down to 29.35. At Palm Beach palm trees were uprooted, signs torn down, houses damaged and boats blown on shore from the fury of the gale.

The populaces of Palm Beach and West Palm Beach became anxious as the force of the wind climbed steadily from 40 miles an hour late Tuesday afternoon to 70 miles shortly before midnight.

Enemies of the Road-

Expanding Heat—Contracting Cold—Biting Oil—Surface and Underground Floods of Moisture—Rasping Chains—Crushing Pounding Traffic—These Enemies of the Road unite to tear and mash at all surfaces.

Only a costly army of repairmen constantly on the alert can turn them back for long unless pavements are bedded right and surfaced with the toughest material obtainable.

Why maintain this expensive repair force in the field when you can fortify impregnably against each and every enemy of your streets and highways?

The answer is simple as A, B, C.

Pave with VITRIFIED BRICK

That this will ably solve the problems of any street or road in your community for a generation to come has been demonstrated in other localities time after time. There are reasons, of course, why this is true. Not only because of the constantly re proven durability of Brick but for other reasons as well. Note Them—

1st—DURABILITY—Vitrified Brick Pavements will outlast by many years any other type. They are not affected by weather, climatic and atmospheric conditions. Gasoline and oil drippings from parked automobiles, which are very injurious to bituminous types of pavements, have no damaging effect whatever on Vitrified Brick, neither will parking on hot summer days dent or rut those Brick pavements. A Vitrified Brick Pavement does not wear out from the top down under existing traffic.

2nd—BEAUTY—Brick pavements, when built according to modern engineering principals, are smooth, noiseless and pleasing to the eye. The soft red of the pavement blends itself perfectly with the green of trees and lawns and the white of sidewalks and approaches. Also, there is no glare.

Informative Booklets showing what Brick is doing and has done for other communities will gladly be sent on request.

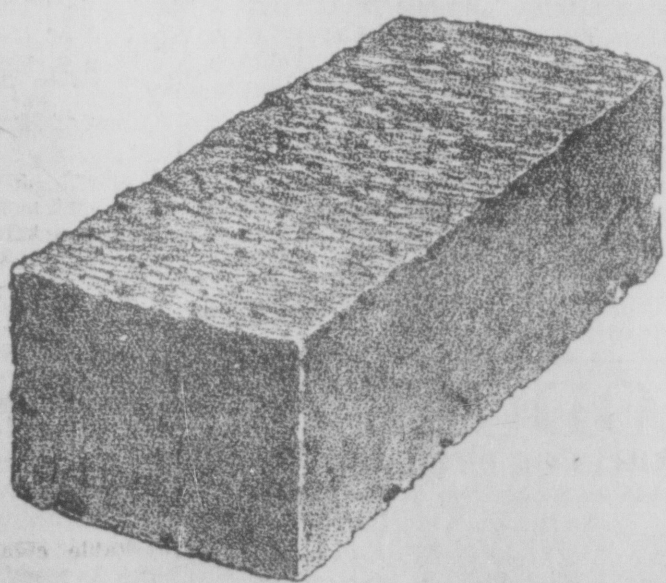

Pave right and it's only necessary to pave once!

Pave with Vitrified Brick the material that outlasts the Bonds—

3rd—SAFETY—A Brick pavement, although smooth and easy for traffic, affords the highest degree of safety to auto drivers and pedestrians, and especially to the little ones. It is gritty and does not invite little children to play on it with roller skates, scooters or similar toys, thereby endangering their lives and safety. It has enough resistance to enable drivers of motor vehicles to use their brakes effectively in an emergency.

4th—TAXPAYERS ECONOMY (other than of Durability)—Modern Vitrified Brick Pavements are real economy to the assessed, as well as to the general taxpayer. They require a minimum of maintenance and repair and are, therefore, never closed to traffic, causing unpleasant detours. Should water or sewer cuts be made into the street the Brick can be salvaged and replaced without detection by the street repair force, providing the fill and foundation are placed back properly.

Our friends Hanley Collins and Kenneth Newhouse formerly Salt Creek boys, have left for an extended trip to California. A friend of theirs whose home is in the "Golden Gate" state purchased a new Cadillac machine here and invited them to accompany him on the trip; they will drive the entire distance. "Send out some more invitations, buddy."

Artificial Rain Making Not Bunk, Scientist States

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 7.—Artificial rain making, long classified with such notions as flying to the moon, is not an imaginative fiction but a scientific fact, according to C. T. Knipp, of the University of Illinois.

The Illinois scientist proved his assertion. Before the American Chemical Society Institute here, Prof. Knipp took a vessel containing moistened air, introduced dust from a burning match into the vessel as a condensing agent and produced a miniature rainstorm.

"Ultimately," Prof. Knipp believes, "this experiment may become widely applied in the open. It is a simple matter of the moisture clinging to the dust until the various particles form drops of rain."

Prof. Wilbur Steel, noted astronomer, thinks we will be in communication with the planets within ten years. Good! Maybe some of them will be able to tell America how to enforce prohibition.—Florida Times-Union.

SILENCE

By SAM SIMMONS

Author of—"The Garden of Hate," "Sand and Sea," "Morning Star," etc.
Silence I crave that I may hear
The silent stars speak cheery near,
Beauty I see in silent tree,
Silence I plead God's seeking thee,
Silence of night when all's asleep,
Solitude as the day does creep,
Hearing His voice in silence say,
Silent I created all in the day,
Silence speaks loud where e'er you go,
Watch lightning flash of flowers grow;
Stand at the tomb of prophets bold,
How loud they speak, the ages old,
Silence of thought—unspoken word,
Acts speak louder than's ever heard,
Silence oft times, like that above,
Is the essence of a great love.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

BY
EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT the necessity of improving the roads with a view of catering to the tourist is a good one, however, the value of the highway to the farmer is often lost sight of.

THAT good roads are the farmers' first and principal transportation means of marketing his products.

THAT good roads are the arteries of the economic and social system of the country and on their condition rests the amount of transportation charges that must be added to the gross costs of farm products, and the more fully they are developed the less will weather conditions be allowed to clog the flow of traffic.

THAT the loss from bad roads should be reduced to a minimum, not only to enlarge the farmers' market, but to shorten the time and reduce the spread of price between the farmer and the consumer.

THAT the farmer should be able to haul to market twice as much twice as often with good roads as he has in the past with poor roads.

THAT if the farmer is to be put in a position to help influence the price of his products by not dumping them on the market for fear of unseasonable weather, he must control the conditions of the roads to his markets.

THAT without proper road conditions, orderly marketing can never be accomplished.

TRAFFIC OVER THE HIGHWAYS HAS BEEN SO GREATLY INTENSIFIED DURING THE PAST FEW YEARS THAT THIS METHOD OF TRANSPORTATION NEEDS EARNEST AND CAREFUL CONSIDERATION.

Mrs. Wealtha Vieth Abernethy
Democratic Candidate for
CLERK OF COURTS

This is to remind you that the best assurance of your support, is your vote for me at the POLLS. I am asking the support of all voters. Women are being increasingly called for Jury service, and they are in error in refusing to vote thinking thereby to escape Jury service.

REMEMBER, it was the men who gave the women the right to vote, and if they can vote, why not hold office, if the office sought is a suitable one. Men are asking and expect to receive the support of women voters. When one representing mothers, wives, sisters and daughters asks their support for an office purely clerical, which can be acceptably filled by a woman, should they not reciprocate? Since women were given universal suffrage, I have consistently voted the Democratic Ticket. We have WOMEN CLERK OF COURTS in Ross, Fayette, Fairfield and other counties, and I am submitting my candidacy for that office in Pickaway. I am not unaccustomed to work, commencing at the age of 16; later appointed Court Stenographer by a Democratic Judge, I was retained by a Republican Judge, serving seven years, as efficiency took precedence over politics. For 25 years I have been intimately associated with the responsibilities of a law office, and the Clerk of Court's office always filled by a layman, will not find me inexperienced. I feel I can serve you efficiently and well. A woman cannot campaign like a man, and I find it impossible to see every voter. My resources are limited—owning a small farm, proving a liability rather than an asset. I have helped in my way, both city and county, and leave the result with you as fellow workers and fellow voters. I urge attendance at the Polls August 14th—it is both your privilege and your duty. Respectfully submitted,
(MRS.) WEALTHA VIETH ABERNETHY.
Knowing Mrs. Abernethy to be competent for the office sought, I endorse her candidacy. I am confident she will add strength to the Ticket at the November election.
Yours for Democracy,
I. N. Abernethy.
